LOCAL EVENTS

THE JEFFERSON COUNTY COURT MEETS

The Jefferson County Court meets this morning at the usual hour. Our hotel registers were unusually full last night, showing that Sunday travel has resumed some extent. At ten o'clock last night the state of the weather was as follows: Thermometer 44 deg.; barometer 29.35 and falling. The Max. Wind, from the southwest, variable, will give a concert at Masonic Temple on the evening of March 20th.

Andrew Jackson Donelson, of Tennessee, and Col. W. B. Lane, of the United States Army, are at the Louisville Hotel. Kitty Cloverport fills her accustomed place in the Journal to-day. All of our readers will be charmed by her brightly played. It is one of her best.

Dupree and Bendick's Minstrels have engaged Weisiger Hall, and propose to regale our citizens with a series of Edisonian entertainments, commencing on the 23d of March.

On Thursday evening next the Gateway Church choir will give their proposed concert. They will be aided by some of the most talented singers in the city, and no effort will be spared to render the concert all that fastidious musiclovers could wish.

We understand that the Rev. W. H. Platt, rector of Calvary Church, will deliver his first lecture, "Rationalism," on the evening of the 24th inst., and his second lecture, "Laziness," on the following night, the 25th.

Steam-engine J. A. Gillis No. 2, having been "in shop" for four or five weeks, receiving a new dress of paint and a new boiler, will be placed "in ordinary" to-day, much stronger and more serviceable on account of overhauling.

Of course the friends of Ireland will flock to the courthouse this evening to see the performance of the Rev. W. H. Platt, and Mr. James Gibbons. They are high officers in the Penian Brotherhood, and are gentlemen of marked ability and experience as public speakers.

Prof. J. W. Beeson will deliver his second lecture before the Kentucky School of Medicine at 7 o'clock this evening. The subject, "The Eye and Its Adaptation to Sight," is one of peculiar interest, and will no doubt induce a large attendance.

We learn that the Lecture Committee of the Y. M. C. A. is corresponding with Henry Vincent with a view to re-engage him for one or two lectures at the request of "many citizens" who were delighted by his recent lectures in this city. We hope they will succeed in securing him for at least two lectures.

The trial of W. B. Kennedy, for the murder of Benjamin Fox on the night of the 12th of October last, was terminated on Saturday evening, after having occupied the attention of the court four days. A verdict of "not guilty" was returned by the jury less than five minutes after the case had been called on for judgment.

The friends of the orator and his family were overjoyed at his acquittal, and indulged in the wildest enthusiasm. Father Lusk Spalding's lecture upon the "Law of Charity" attracted the largest concourse to the Cathedral last evening, that has ever been within its sacred walls. In fact, hundreds of persons, anxious to hear the eloquent young divine, were unable to gain admittance at all, so vast was the multitude.

The lecture was beautiful, in thought and delivery. It is believed to have been the most correct and brilliant attempt Father Spalding has yet made as a public lecturer. A large sum of money was collected from the audience at the close of the lecture, for application to the orphan fund. This admirable lecture should be repeated. We hope it will be.
